

Introducing Peter Kennedy Drama (P&S)

Peter Kennedy is a drama in education specialist and course leader with more than twenty five years' experience of providing learners of all ages with engaging and inspiring drama experiences.

As Consultant Practitioner on Stockport's Drama, Engagement, Active Learning programme (DEAL), Peter works with children and teachers, equipping both with this powerful pedagogy to make learning memorable and irresistible.

"On behalf of us all, we'd just like to say a MASSIVE thank you for inspiring and exciting us ... the energy and pedagogy that you have is invaluable and has left us as a school raring to go!" – Deputy Head

Peter also works in partnership with individual primary schools and multi-academy trusts to develop their use of drama to enrich the curriculum as well as to support writing and emotional well-being. As part of the North West Drama Services team Peter directs both the Stockport and Oldham Children's Shakespeare Festivals, promoting cross curricular and performance work.

Previously, Peter was Head of Drama at The Kingsway School (Stockport) leading a thriving drama department in a twelve form entry comprehensive school and, as an Associate Lecturer at Manchester Metropolitan University, Peter supported the development of trainee teachers.

Since 2005, Peter has led both primary and secondary courses for teachers in Shropshire.
